授業カタログとは

授業カタログは、東京大学の学部後期課程・大学院課程で開講されている科目の全体を見渡し、あるいはそれらを検索し科目相互の関わりを見出すことを目的としたシステムです。

東京大学では、UT-mate、工学部システム、UTaskなど複数のシステムにシラバス情報が分かれて取められており、その数は学部後期課程だけで4500以上になります。そのため他学科・他学部の授業群から学びたい授業を探すことが大変困難なのではないかと思えます。このシステムを用いることにより、自己学習の機会を増やし、各自の目標に向かってより有効な学習を行い、あるいは新たな学問分野を切り開くことを期待します。

What is “Online Course Catalogue” ?

Online Course catalogue is a system that students can use to scan all courses given in the undergraduate and graduate schools or to search for any of the courses to find how they are interconnected.

At the University of Tokyo, the syllabi are classified and listed on the UT-mate, the syllabus system of the Faculty of Engineering, UTask and other systems. They have more than 4,500 courses in total. Because of this complexity, it may be extremely difficult for students to choose courses from among those in the disciplines and faculties other than their own.

With this system, students can increase opportunities to study on their own, to study more effectively toward their individual goals or to explore new academic fields.

3. Search courses by using the search box or by choosing the faculty on the right side of the screen.

The screenshot shows the 'Global Japan Studies Program' page. At the top, there is a search bar with 'UT-mate syllabus search' and a 'Quick Search' button. Below the search bar, there are links for 'My List' and 'How to Use'. The main content area is titled 'Global Japan Studies Program' and includes a 'Refine Your Search' button. A text box provides notes for students of the University-wide Student Exchange Program (USTEP) or international students, stating that USTEP students are expected to be enrolled at courses only listed below, and that students with N1 level certification of the Japanese-Language Proficiency Test (JLPT) are allowed to attend the courses given by Japanese-language. It also notes that undergraduate students cannot register courses of the graduate schools and that other details shall be as prescribed by the faculty or graduate school concerned.

A table lists several courses. The first row is circled in red and has a yellow highlight under the 'Code' column. The course details for 'Introduction to International Conflicts' are shown below the table. A callout box on the right side of the page says: 'You can narrow the search results. For example, narrow the search results by "Including S2 in Semester" or "Period is Fri 2nd".'

What is an international conflict? Will it be possible to discuss the origins of international conflicts in more general and abstract ways, or would it be the case that each conflicts are so distinct in nature that rule out theoretical abstraction? Those are the basic topics that I aim to cover in this course.

International conflicts encompass a wide terrain; here I will focus on what has come to be called the new kind of wars, those in which cultural symbols and identity play out in the development of violent conflicts, as opposed to the more traditional kind of warfare based on the acquisition of secular interests.
