

Precautions

As a general rule, students enrolled beyond their standard course period cannot receive tuition exemption.

However, exemptions may be granted in cases where the excess period is less than one year and the student is recognized as having unavoidable circumstances.

○ Documents required for examination

- Form 8-1 "Reason for Extending Beyond the Standard Course Period"
- Form 8-2 "List of Publications" *Doctoral students only
- Form 8-3 "Opinion of the Faculty"

*If a student's enrollment period, excluding periods of "study abroad (留学)" or "leave of absence (休学)", exceeds their standard course period, the student will be treated as having exceeded their standard course period. "Travel overseas (海外渡航)" and "Receiving Entrusted Research Guidance (研究指導委託)" are not excluded from the period of enrollment.

* If the reason for the extension is illness, childbirth, or childcare, please submit the medical certificate (a copy is acceptable) or a copy of the "Mother and child Handbook". In addition, even if the reason is illness, childbirth, or childcare, you are required to submit Form 8-3 ("Opinion of the Faculty"). If you are an undergraduate student or a student in the Law School and do not have an academic advisor, please request the office of your faculty/graduate school to prepare Form 8-3.

*Undergraduate students are judged whether or not they are enrolled beyond their standard course period for each of the Junior and Senior Divisions.

(Even if you have repeated a year in the Junior Division, it will not be treated as an excess if it is within the standard period of study after entering the Senior Division. If a student studies abroad across both the Junior and Senior Divisions, the entire duration of the study abroad period will be excluded from the calculation of the standard period of study for the Senior Division.)

○ Examples of unavoidable circumstances

1. Applicant's own illness (including injury or disease)

If the extension beyond the standard course period is due to illness, please attach the relevant medical certificates (one that shows the period of illness).

2. Childbirth/Childcare

If the extension beyond the standard course period is due to childbirth or childcare, please attach a copy of your "Mother and child Handbook".

3. Preparation of graduate school doctoral thesis

If the extension beyond the standard course period is due to doctoral thesis preparation, please attach Form 8-2 "List of Publications".

4. External circumstances beyond the will or effort of the applicant

(e.g.: The applicant changed the theme of their thesis due to the retirement or transfer of their supervisor, natural disasters have made it difficult to use experimental facilities and equipment, or data already collected has been lost, etc.)

For applicants who applied for exemptions for both halves in the spring and have made changes to the descriptive contents or List of Publications, please resubmit the forms before the end of September. If no reports have been made about changes, it shall be deemed that there have been no changes.
